What is it? The name 'Dubai' tends to conjure up images of endless skyscrapers – hardly the vision of a green city. Thus, the 'Green Building Code' directive from Dubai municipality aims to ensure the city's future growth goes along environmentally friendly lines and is the cornerstone of the sustainable development strategy from The Dubai Strategic Plan 2015. In short, it's a big deal. The 'green building' concept – identical to that enforced by the US Green Building Council (USGBC) – guarantees sustainable building design
